

GoMedia announces documentary partnership with DocuBay

03 March 2020, London: UK rail and coach passengers can now watch premium international documentaries from global membership VOD streaming service DocuBay, thanks to a partnership with onboard infotainment provider GoMedia.

Available on Avanti West Coast, TransPennine Express, South Western Railway, National Express and West Midlands Railway services in the UK, passengers will now have access to a range of complimentary documentaries via the onboard GoMedia platform. Titles on offer from DocuBay – which launched in August 2019 – include Inside Facebook, I Killed John Lennon, Kayaking the Aleutians and The Wayman Tisdale Story.

D Girish, Vice President of Strategy at DocuBay says: “We’re thrilled to partner with GoMedia to bring DocuBay’s broad catalogue of premium international documentary features to passengers traveling across the UK. With films from all over the world and a wide variety of genres — including but not limited to sports, science, culture, history and true crime — these fascinating and relevant stories will appeal to a large segment of audience wherever they may be heading. We look forward to continuing to grow DocuBay’s global OneTribe community.”

Roger Matthews, Managing Director at GoMedia adds: “In a world of social media and fake news it’s safe to say that the documentary genre is at the forefront of viewer demand. That’s why we’re excited to partner with DocuBay to showcase its range of international documentary films on our onboard platform. The longer length offers great entertainment for leisure and business travellers, allowing viewers to explore a different world, dive into history or learn something new on their daily commute.”

Passengers can access documentary content via the GoMedia platform by logging onto their rail or coach operator’s complimentary Wi-Fi via their smartphone or tablet and opening the web browser.

- ENDS -

For further information

Khushboo Parekh

DocuBay

T: +91 9833459223

Khushboo.parekh@docubay.com

About GoMedia

GoMedia creates award-winning infotainment platforms for rail, coach and transport companies, including Eurostar, Avanti West Coast, Greyhound Buses (USA), National Express, TransPennine Express and Chiltern Railways. The company’s technology is proven to increase customer satisfaction and helps monetise operators’ existing onboard Wi-Fi infrastructure revolutionising passenger experiences, through world-class entertainment, information and advertising content that is hosted onboard and delivered to passengers’ own mobile devices. All GoMedia solutions come with the company’s world leader offline Transport DRM solution that allows customers to watch premium content, even if there is no external connectivity available to the vehicle.

GoMedia provides services to deliver its award-winning infotainment platform, with content from major studios (such as Universal Pictures and Warner Bros), catch-up TV from ITV, on-demand entertainment from Amazon Prime, NOW TV and HayU, popular box sets and original series, games, digital newspapers and magazines.

GoMedia is integrating intelligent personalised passenger information into its app and browser propositions, delivering on the connected journey promise.

For more information, visit www.gomedia.io.

About DocuBay

DocuBay is a global, membership VOD streaming service and OTT platform exclusively designed to stream premium international documentary films. Specializing as a niche video service with over 300 titles available, DocuBay features engaging, relevant, and insightful stories from leading filmmakers across the world. Film titles are categorized in “Bays” by genre, including CultureBay, PoliticsBay, TravelBay, SportsBay, ScienceBay, and CrimeBay, as well as the recently launched PrideBay. Available in 180+ countries, DocuBay is accessible across devices including iOS, Android, Apple TV, Amazon Fire TV, and Roku, among many others. Join the Tribe www.docubay.com